Outsourcing in Drug Development - CRO Day 2012

Thursday, 8th November 2012, Bern Westside

Target Group

SME's active in drug discovery and development and CROs specialized in specific services within the development chain.

Objectives

Outsourcing of pharmaceutical development has become a daily topic in the Life Science Industry within the last years and represents an effective and cost efficient way of developing new products. Pharmaceutical and biotech companies outsource research, development and manufacturing and engage consultants for support in regulatory questions.

This event will bring together development companies and suppliers specialized in specific services within the development chain. The CROs will represent themselves as an interesting outsourcing partner at the exhibition and the conference in parallel will give an insight on the different activities of the CROs and how to manage the collaborations with suppliers.
